Class Officers

Representing the senior officers are President, Frederick T. Hayward; Vice-President, Ann Forsberg; Secretary, Natalie Creedon and Treasurer, David Rodriques. They have successfully put all their efforts into making our class one of the best to graduate B.H.S.

Executive Committee

The five young people below constitute the Executive Committee of the Class of 1952. They are Alice Masson, Truly Bacas, Paul Ford, John Fitzpatrick, and John Spellman. It is their duty to assist the class officers in every possible way to maintain good government. It is certain that without these members, our class would not be so outstanding as it is.

Yearbook Staff

After struggling from fall to spring under a deluge of write-ups, pictures, and ads, the yearbook staff finally has emerged with what we hope is an outstanding production.

We are deeply indebted to our General Advisor Mr. Archibald Kelly, and to Miss Tuttle and Miss Goodridge for their invaluable assistance.

Senior Dues Collectors

"Money, money, money, I want some money," is the cry issued from these senior dues collectors as they scurry back and forth draining the seniors of their hard-earned funds to pay for yearbooks, the class gift, and the other numerous expenses.

Congratulations to the hard working collectors for the excellent job that they have done.

Class Poem

JANET YAFFE

Fondly and sadly we murmur adieu
Leaving dear classmates, and faculty, too,
Guidance they've given us, all through the years,
Sharing our joys, and decreasing our fears.

Knowledge we've gathered, and uplifting thought,
Helpful ideas for our life journey sought,
Fortified now for our start in the world,
Faithful, we'll trudge on, with banners unfurled.

Courage will strengthen us all, for the fight,
Guarding our land with our strong youthful might,
Gallantly striving to keep Freedom here,
Saving Democracy's ideals so dear.

Some of our classmates may reach world-wide fame,
Gaining far goal and illustrious name,
Others will seek daily duty and mirth,
Struggling to fill honest place on the earth.

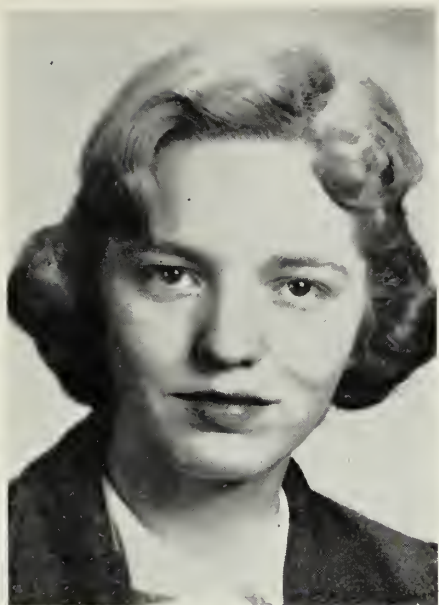

Happiness, luck, and great future success,
Blessings we hope will be ours, none the less;
Grateful to parents and teachers and friends,
Serving God's will, whate'er fate He sends.

Class Ode

Embarking today with our sails gaily spread,
We leave our safe harbor, for breakers ahead,
When storm winds are rising, and hard winds do blow,
Oh, then we'll be valiant, and face ev'ry foe.

The wisdom we've learned all along our school way,
Will help us to conquer our troubles each day,
And guide our small craft over far distant seas,
With God as our Pilot, our haven He sees.

Oh, let us grow stronger and ever more kind,
As each one endeavors his own goal to find,
Bestow on our efforts success and fair fate,
Our ideals kept sacred, our souls free from hate.

May none of our school friendships falter or fail,
No matter how rough are the seas or the gale,
We'll know that our comrades are loyal and true,
And God in His goodness will guide our lives through.

Excerpts from Class Oration

By RICHARD YUKINS

Parents, invited guests, teachers, and fellow classmates of 1952, I am going to tell you a story that I heard a number of months ago. Although the tale may be true, I cannot vouch for its veracity; nevertheless, it will serve to illustrate my point.

The setting England, during the last war when blackouts and German bombing raids were every-day occurrences. Learning from hard experience, the British had built special London bomb shelters in which necessary supplies and commodities were stored for emergencies. One night, like countless other nights, the dreaded German bombers again began storming across the Channel. Englishmen again dropped whatever they were doing and headed for the nearest shelters, like so many ants scurrying into the protection of a hole in the ground. Then, one after another, the bombs began to drop, raining death and terror over the countryside. The people in the particular shelter about which this story centers, could hear the shrill whistling shrieks of the falling bombs, but suddenly, one shriek seemed louder, more ominous than the rest. As these people looked about, frantically realizing what little they could do to save themselves, the bomb struck a short distance from the shelter with a thundering explosion, violently rocking the enclosure, smashing its lights, and filling the only entrance with impenetrable rubble and dirt. Then followed a death-like silence in the dust-laden blackness, and soon the wailing of children could be heard, but in the growing pandemonium of that bomb, the faint flicker of a fire suddenly appeared near the entrance. Madly grabbing candles from the storage boxes, people charged toward the dying flame in a desperate effort to get one of the candles lit. Just as the fire was about to die, the wick of one of the candles flickered aglow. A sigh of relief passed through that tense group as this one flame grew from a tiny spark to a mellow glow. At least they would have light while waiting for the rescue crews to dig them out, but as the people lined up to get a light from this candle to theirs, the man holding it exclaimed, "No, this is my light! No one else can take from it because it may go out!" He then shielded it from the astounded crowd, leaving the rest of that little enclosure in darkness. From his single candle power there could have been many candle powers, and the shelter would have had plenty of light. With his one candle he controlled the power of light and darkness in that isolated microcosm.

This example of the literal power of candle light is analogous to the countless examples in history where figurative candle powers of high ideals and inspirations of great men have held in the balance the saving of the world by admitting new light that serves not for the advantage of one selfish individual but for the benefit of all mankind. . . .

. . . I am afraid that we are too prone to accept the conditions of our present civilization with the complete innocence of a pet rabbit; our government, cultures, and science, our schools, libraries, and hospitals are taken for granted without thought of the candle powers which burned to make them realities.

We here, the members of the graduating class of 1952, have a power that took twelve years of our lives in kindling, this light of education is now ours, and the duty to use it in the purpose for which it was created is the challenge which lies ahead of each and every one of us. The world today is learning in a painful

President's Address

(Condensed)

By FREDERICK T. HAYWARD

"Quo vadimus?" Where are we going? Are we of the present age so confused in a scramble for material gains that we are blind to our spiritual destination? Are we suffering from a case of moral myopia?

In another hour and a half, my classmates and I shall have graduated from the preparatory rehearsal in school to the world stage to assume modest parts for which many agencies have been coaching us. What kind of world do we find? I am here to tell you what we think of what we find and what we believe the role of all of us to be.

Our backstage preparation for the world scene has laid stress on the importance of integrity and moral courage. Thus we have assumed that the drama in which we are to participate will be built on lofty themes with characters of heroic stature. But as we approach the footlights, what does the class of 1952 find? Before us stretches a darkness that obscures the light, a darkness that provides the atmosphere for tragedy.

What is this shadow? It is that of moral decadence, an evil so widespread that it extends from the Capital to the basketball courts and to the most modest home. We are disillusioned.

What are some of the reasons for this moral laxity among us all? It seems to spring from two general sources, a new emphasis on materialism and an increasing lack of moral independence. Our new high standard of living, an over-abundance of money, the psychology of getting something for nothing fostered by the welfare state—all these explain the new importance of materialistic values.

This would be less serious if it were not for the easy attitude toward the acquisition of these possessions. Rapidly disappearing is the moral independence of the pioneer who was free to follow the dictates of his own conscience. Alone in a remote region, he bowed to no public opinion, yes-yessed no man to secure economic security. With roots deep in the earth he cultivated, he was a sturdy oak, alone and proud, breathing a free air under a sky that seemed his own. Today, however, in our more closely populated communities, in our more complex economy, that moral independence is disappearing. Today, it is important to fit in, to placate even at the expense of personal convictions. Modern philosophy stresses the importance of winning friends, willy-nilly, even at the expense of influencing people in the right direction. The fear of economic insecurity has created the yes-yes man who many times is forced to become an agent in transactions of which his conscience does not approve.

This is the world stage as we see it only in the first glare of the footlights. As our eyes become adjusted, it is a relief, however, to recognize in the darkness evidence of man's potentialities for good, for right thinking and courageous deeds. Besides the churches, the Y's, the welfare agencies, there are in this country alone hundreds of organizations whose purpose it is to work for the physical, moral, and social betterment of mankind.

But, classmates and friends, this better side of the world picture needs our support. Men in all professions recognize the need for a moral revival. Warns Dr. Sockman of the National Radio Pulpit: "There is a need for more moral athletes and fewer moral acrobats." Says Eddie Rickenbacker: "If we are to protect our freedoms—, we have a second and even greater rearmament task ahead of us; namely, spiritual rearmament."

We have often heard the words, "The future of our country lies in its youth." In these same leaders of tomorrow may we see some of the moral courage of Captain Carlsen, the heroic skipper of the sinking ship "Enterprise." With no thought of publicity or gain, he doggedly adhered to his own standard of honor—he remained with his sinking ship. He was alone and in danger on a riotous sea. The plunging and rolling "Enterprise" was racked in agony. Security lay in the waiting lifeboats; security lay on the inviting decks of the tugboat "Turmoil." But to these temptations the Captain turned a deaf ear. Today the "Enterprise" rests its broad bulk fathoms deep, but Captain Carlsen is safe. Forgotten is the loss of the ship, but of undying importance are the stamina and courage of the man. Steel is fragile and temporal, but the spirit of man endures.

Senior Activities

ACTIVITIES

Student Council

Led by Miss Sylvester and President James Averett, the Student Council deals with problems of school improvements, as suggested by the student body. We may thank these people for our colorful book covers and lunchroom improvements. The Council also conducted a successful Junior Red Cross campaign this year. We know that B.H.S. could not function so well without this organization.

Junior Ushers—Girls

Attired in white ballerina-length dresses of frosted organdy over taffeta, and carrying old-fashioned bouquets of American beauty roses, twenty-six Junior girls, led by their Vice-President Ann Forsberg, and their Secretary Natalie Creeden, ushered the Seniors of 1951 to their Class Day and Graduation exercises, and helped to distribute refreshments and yearbooks on Class Night.

With their class advisor, Miss B. Elizabeth Elzbut, the girls worked many hours making their dresses, flowers, and decorations for the graduation exercises.

Junior Ushers—Boys

From the Class of 1952 were chosen twenty-six boys, plus the Sophomore Class President, to serve as ushers for the graduation exercises. The boys attired in light pants, dark jackets, and white boutonnieres, led parents and friends to their seats on Class Day and graduation night, helped to arrange decorations on the platform, and with the girls, distributed yearbooks and refreshments on Class Night.

Library Monitors

The Library Monitors' Club is one of the many activities that are open to students at Brockton High School. Some of the obligations which these pupils must fulfill include helping with classroom loans and with reserved books, writing notices for overdue books, and other duties which may be assigned to them. They are under the capable supervision of Miss Helen C. Converse, our librarian, who has served two years with us. Members who were monitors for three years are: Marilyn Bourne, Virginia Kaplan, Barbara Kerwin, Barbara Tinkham, and Claire Upton. Part-time secretaries are: Elaine Chirokas and Penelope Roufogalis.

Not present when picture was taken were: Jean Broderick, Avis Collins, Joan Crossman, Marquerite Derosier, Patricia Donahue, Maristene Jess, Alice Kowalski, Madeleine LaBelle, Elena Melideo, Jean Parker, Kathleen Painaudé, Mary Lou Sproul, and Claire Upton.

Hi-Y Club

Striving to live up to their motto "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school, and community, the high standards of Christian living," the 1951-52 Brockton Hi-Y Club, affiliated with the Y.M.C.A., completed another successful year. This organization with Mr. William J. Montgomery as faculty advisor, gave its able assistance to charities and other needy causes, and also put out the student guides here at Brockton High School. The club officers were as follows: President, Richard Laing; Vice-President, Roger LaBarre; Secretary, Paul Ford; and Treasurer, Donald Bingham.

Dramatic Club

Under the direction of Miss Rose H. Condon and Miss Ruth M. Stokes, the Dramatic Club has completed a very successful year. The members participated in the Christmas Pageant, and they also presented several playlets. The officers of this group are: Marilyn Tarasiewicz, President; Demitra Papacosta, Vice-President; Carol Dineen, Secretary; and Jane Pratt, Treasurer.

Stagecraft

Meet your Stagecraft Staff! The nineteen people pictured plus twenty other members are always on hand to assist with scenery, lighting apparatus, and stage properties whenever the auditorium is used. With their help we felt very much at home in the Gilbreth living room on the night of the class play. Remember the terrific job they did for our "Winter Whirl"? These young people are directed by Mr. John F. Burbank and the student director, Jack Butler.

Band

This has been one of the busiest years for the Brockton High School Band. Besides brightening up all the football games with its showy music, the members of the band, under the leadership of Mr. Walter M. Smith, have participated at our athletic assemblies and rallies, and in several parades, concerts, and festivals. The South Eastern Massachusetts Festival, held in May 1952, proved to be the climax of its spring season. The year's work was brought to an end with the band's contribution to the Commencement Exercises.

Orchestra

One of the oldest organizations in the school, the B.H.S. Orchestra, is under the baton of Mr. George Sawyer Dunham. This group of musicians traditionally brightened the Thursday morning assemblies, and furnished the between-the-acts music for the class play.

Mixed Chorus

Whenever this group is assembled, it means one thing—fine music. The members of this Chorus were selected from classes of Mr. Rodney F. May, Mr. Walter M. Smith, and Mr. George S. Dunham. They provided the inspirational singing for the Christmas Pageant.

Male Chorus

This year the Male Chorus has been considered the best in the seven years that this organization has been under the direction of Rodney F. May. The boys have received state-wide recognition for the distinctive manly quality in their vocal production at the festivals in Framingham and Middleboro. They had the honor of being invited to sing at the American Society for Curriculum Development at the Hotel Statler in Boston. Under the untiring efforts and supervision of Mr. May, these young men have achieved prestige for the Brockton Department of Music Education. The group was ably accompanied by Judy Capen.

Galloneers

The Galloneers, a select group of members chosen from the large male chorus, enjoyed another excellent musical season this past year. This stellar group, accompanied by Judith Capen, won the acclaim of many audiences throughout New England. Two special trips, one to New Hampshire and one to New York City, were the highlights of their season.

"Brocktonia"

A desire of every literary or business-minded student is to take part in the work of the school newspaper, "Brocktonia." Each staff member contributes much time and effort toward his assignments, in order to help publish an outstanding and worth-while paper each month. The pupils are capably assisted by Mr. Norman B. Nash, business and circulation advisor, and Mr. Francis W. Hopkins, literary advisor. Participating in this extracurricular work are:

Junior Class Officers

The Junior Class Officers have been a great asset to the Class of 1952. They were co-chairmen of the Junior-Senior Prom, "Winter Whirl" and served as ushers during our graduation week. We wish them the best of luck as Seniors.

The Sophomore Class recently elected an able group of students for its officers for the coming year. We wish them success as the leaders of their class.

Christmas Pageant

According to tradition, the students of Brockton High School presented a very impressive Christmas Pageant before a capacity audience. The inspirational scenes depicting the nativity were received most reverently and pleasantly. Under the direction of Miss Rose Condon and Miss Ruth Stokes, the characters were portrayed by members of the Dramatic Club. The musical background was provided by the A Capella Choir, led by Mr. Rodney F. May, and the Scripture readers were Robert James, John Spellman, and Robert Phipps.

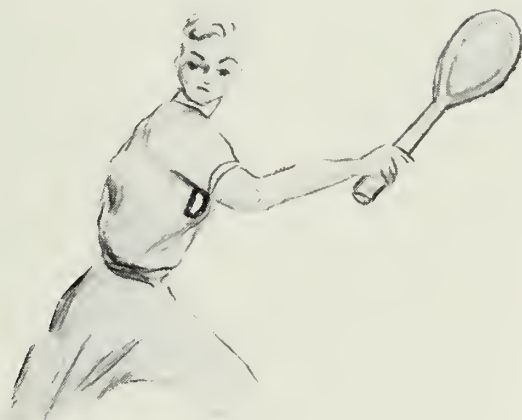

The lovely group of angels are Maristine Jess, Joanne Albanese, Jane Pratt, Sandra Young, Dorothy Raymond, Joyce Studley, Carlene Dodd, Marjorie Benson, and Elizabeth Patrick. Jean O'Leary was the Angel Gabriel and Suzanne MacLean portrayed Mary.

Adding to the success of the Pageant was the hard work of the Stagecraft Crew. The members provided the beautiful lighting effects and the stage settings.

As you can see, the Christmas Pageant is truly a co-operative project of the Brockton High School pupils.

Basketball

With the advent of Coach Gordon McKernan, a new era has begun at Brockton High School. This year's team was one of which we may be proud because the players never gave up when faced by defeat. This quintet lost many close games that with a few breaks would have been won. Brockton's opposition was of extremely good calibre this year, and several of our opponents entered the Tech Tourney with Durfee emerging the victor. The boys deserve a great deal of credit, for they were always trying. There is shining hope for next year when many veterans will return.

Hockey

This year's hockey squad was one of which we may be justly proud. Good team spirit and aggressiveness were the by-words of the team. The lack of proper facilities and the poor cooperation of the weatherman prevented the proper amount of practice and a complete schedule. A very sad note was the sudden death of Mr. Louis E. Principe, the beloved hockey coach. The boys will always be better citizens because of the high standard of fair play set forth by Mr. Principe.

Golf

The B.H.S. Golf Team has continued the precedent set by golf teams of the past. Although at this writing the season is half over, the team is undefeated, and this includes a cherished win over our arch-rival Dartmouth. Even with the loss of some outstanding veterans, coach Lloyd D. Avery has a well-balanced squad of top calibre. This team could conceivably enter the finals for the mythical state crown which we last won in 1947 and lost last year in the finals. The members of the squad are Joseph Powers, captain; Sterling Ingram, Myles Dempsey, Louis Thibeault, Laurie Hatch, Sabino Merra, Allan Dushman, Edward Couble, Thomas Williams, Jack Eaton, and Richard Osborne.

Baseball

Baseball at B.H.S. is off to another good season. Good pitching, steady fielding, and timely hitting have all contributed toward the fine record up to press time. Included in the victories is a no-hit shutout twirled by Dick Archer against North Quincy. The team lineup is as follows: Captain Dan Rock, catcher; Frank Piveronas, first base; Joe Fulginiti, second base; Parker Richards, shortstop; Louis Marchegiano, third base; Ralph Chesnauskas, left field; Fred MacDermott, center field; Joseph Joseph, right field. The team is coached by Mr. Holden assisted by Mr. Nash.

Football

Many people are prone to judge the success of a football season by the number of victories a team acquires. These people should use as their criterion the character and sportsmanship that have been developed by the contact with players and coaches of other teams. If we use the former as our standard of judgment, Brockton High School had a mediocre season, but if we use as our base the true method, the "Shoe City Boys" had an extremely successful season. In the years to come when people think of this team, they will not think in terms of victories. Long after victories are forgotten fine character and other good traits continue to shine in this troubled world. This team needs no apologies. They played their hearts out in defeat and took victory in stride.

Cross Country

Led by their "mighty mite," Fred Hickey, the B.H.S. Harriers completed a successful season under the able coaching of Mr. Reuell. Hickey set several new records. He also finished second in the State Meet and fifth in the New England Meet.

Track

Tennis

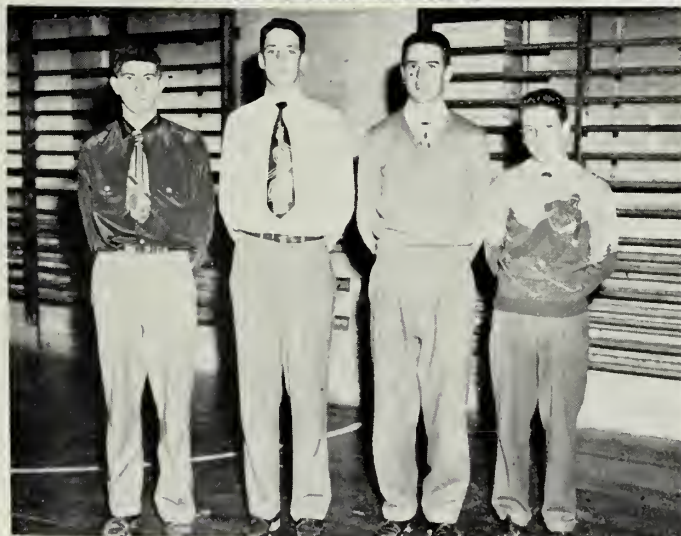

The tennis team began its sixth season this year under the able coaching of Mr. Wigren. Although the season is incomplete, Brockton is second in the South Shore League. The only defeat has come at the hands of Hingham, the division leader. With a few breaks our boys may be able to annex another league trophy.

Mr. Wigren, Paul Adams, John McClung, James Averett, Robert Reed, Robert James, William Walsh, Roger Perron.

Intramural

A comprehensive intramural system is very necessary in a school. With the support of our headmaster a program was put into effect. Every boy has an equal opportunity to participate. Basketball, tumbling, table tennis, volleyball, tennis, foul shooting, and individual gymnastic events comprise the activities. In basketball there are two leagues, a Junior-Senior and a Sophomore. Champions are established in each division. This past year the program has increased not only in size but also in the number of boys participating.

Cheerleaders

Our cheerleaders added much color and enthusiasm to this year's athletic events. Their participation at games and rallies was inspiring both to the players and to the spectators.

Girls' Sports Council

Sometime while you are engrossed in watching a sports spectacle in the girls' gym, you may be suddenly surprised to see one of our own junior or senior girls as the referee, umpire, or other official. These girls are members of the Girls' Sports Council, one of the most highly respected organizations in the high school. To become a member of the Sports Council is not an easy task, since candidates must spend several months on a course consisting of the ethics, principles, and regulations involved in management of competitive sports. Those passing tests in both theory and practice may proudly call themselves members of Sports Council.

The duties of Sports Council are many but are all of an enjoyable nature, including coaching, umpiring, refereeing, scoring, and timing games not only in Brockton High, but also in the various junior highs throughout the city. The physical education department practices a democratic way of deciding matters, calling in the Sports Council whenever there is a decision to be made about girls' sports throughout the school. Sportsmanship is the keynote of the Sports Council, and it is hoped that a spirit of fair play and courtesy may permeate the girls' sports program because of the efforts of these girls.

Girls' Field Hockey

In spite of the limited time allowed on the field because of football practice, our B.H.S. senior girls turned out the most outstanding field hockey team our school has ever had. Under the leadership of Captain Gail Bergeron the seniors defeated the juniors in two straight games in a two out of three series. The increase in participation and the added effort on the part of the players show that field hockey is fast becoming one of the most popular sports in the girls' intramural program.

Badminton

"B" Sweatshirts

Volleyball

This year's senior girls' volleyball team defeated the juniors and the sophomores by scores of 15-12 and 29-11, respectively.

Girls' Basketball

This year the basketball playoffs began with a startling defeat in which the sophomore girls beat the seniors for the first time since 1946. Continuing the contest, the juniors then defeated the sophomores, and the seniors beat the juniors. This tied the competition on all sides and another playoff was necessary.

The seniors then beat the sophomores, but the sophomores beat the juniors, and the juniors then rallied to beat the seniors by one basket. This certainly proved that the teams were evenly matched, and so it was decided that the official championship would be awarded to no one.

At the beginning of the second round, when the seniors defeated the sophomores, it was naturally expected that the seniors would be the champions. Therefore, the picture below has the word "Champions" printed on the ball. However, after careful consideration the physical education instructors decided that this year's senior team were champions in the true sense of the word, and that they should be allowed the privilege of having "Champions of 1952" on their basketball.

Girls' Softball

Softball is a sport which is limited to juniors and sophomores, since it takes place at the time of the year when most seniors are thinking about graduation. Considering the fact that there was very little practice time, because weather conditions were often against us, our present seniors produced a fine team in their junior year. With Hope Sumption as captain they defeated the opposing sophomores, winning the championship.

school with the atom bomb as a text book and the mutilated bodies of mankind as mute demonstration of the blundering stupidity of man; thus, we must, by the use of our light of education, shine forth strongly in an enveloping darkness, for we shall one day ourselves be called upon to make the decisions for right or wrong in our spheres of activity. We stand today in a world already exhausted in the struggle against the powers of darkness that would take from all mankind the light of freedom and democracy. For nearly two years now, the soil of Korea has drunk deep of the blood of defender and aggressor; the blood of American youths has crimsoned the earth the world over from the time of Valley Forge to Heartbreak Ridge; the mountains, plains, and seas have re-echoed with the cry of anguish sent up from the lips of the dying—those dead in the name of the candle light of liberty. We here have a profound obligation to those who have developed and those who have bravely defended what is ours today. It is for us to maintain that heritage and broaden it through the realization of our duty to use our candle power of education to teach a hardened world that life is more than just meat and drink, that glory in arms is less than justice, that "right" is greater than "might," that government is for the benefit of the governed. Unless people add the fuel of intelligence to the flame of the betterment of mankind, then the light of civilization as we know it will be snuffed out never to rekindle again, and nearly two thousand years of progress and sacrifice will be wiped out. Let us, the graduating class of '52 of B.H.S., accept the challenge which the world hurls at us, girded with the light of education, in our own small way, help to keep the beacon light of civilization and the torch of freedom glowing throughout the world for all peoples.
